

GUNDAM GIRLS II

THERE ARE LOTS OF GIRLS IN GUNDAM

Like, a lot of girls. Tall girls, beautiful girls, skilled girls, scarred girls. And there are so many of them that I had to make a second edition! I covered six girls in the previous edition, with a few more in images - the Purus, Haman and the like. I don't know whether I'll devote pages to them in further editions just yet; as such, they aren't going to be in this edition. Instead, let's focus on the girls that didn't get as much love!

In case you haven't read the previous edition, you can find it where you found this one! There's no continuity, these are just my shrines to women from Gundam. So read them in whatever order you like, and enjoy them! Hopefully this will bring you a small amount of happiness in your day, and make you aware of the wonderful women in this franchise.

EMMA SHEEN

Emma Sheen is a fundamental member of the Argama, leaving the Titans to fight for the liberty of humans across the solar system. Her decision to leave the Titans - a group of notorious fascists - was brave and dangerous, and she eventually met her end in the final battle of Zeta Gundam.

Emma is an experienced pilot, a smart thinker, and a somewhat parental figure to the younger pilots in the Argama. She and Henken are goals, and in my own little canon divergent wonderland they eventually get married. One can dream...

NINA PURPLEHEART

Nina is... Pretty stupid. But if we can love himbos, we can love bimbos. Nina tries to do what is best, and she gets VERY homoerotic with Mora, but can't make her mind up about her boyfriends. Gato or Kou? It shouldn't really be that hard a choice, but we'll forgive her because she's beautiful and I love her. And she gets a happy ending!!! I love it!!!

RAIN MIKAMURA

Rain is awesome! She's so awesome that we share a name! Rain Mikamura is the mechanic for Neo Japan's Gundams, and ends up piloting the rising gundam herself. She's got a collection of awesome tech like laser earrings, and her outfit is fashionable as FUCK.

Rain is a himbosexual, and she loves Domon to the ends of the Earth. Their love is honestly goals, and I'm glad that Domon learned to communicate with her because there's nothing more pure than their devotion to each other. Rain is amazing and I love her!

KUDELIA AINA BERNSTEIN

At first blush, Kudelia comes across as a character very reminiscent of Relena Darlian; she's posh, intelligent yet naive, and accidentally gets embroiled in a political battle including gundams and an emotionally constipated pilot. Kudelia and her wife Atra are adorable, and it was so precious to see them with their son... Kudelia is a really cool character and follows in the political footsteps of Relena while arguably getting a fuckload more done than her predecessor, and is a wonderful example of a Gundam character that embraces political engagement on a level that isn't murderous. 10/10, I love her, would recommend.

FUMINA HOSHINO

Fumina is a highlight of Build Fighters Try, and her Winning Gundam perfectly reflects her position in her team with Yuuma and Sekai. Fumina is the leader and the glue that holds the team together, and just like her, the Winning Gundam regularly changes and grows to provide support for her teammates. She's always eager and friendly, and has a fiery passion for gunpla battle. I want to formally apologise to her because I was given a Super Fumina as a christmas present and I think the very concept of the Super Fumina is abhorrent, so... I'm sorry, Fumina...

MARBET FINGERHAT

I love Marbet! So much! She's the only thing that got me through Victory Gundam. Marbet is a parental figure to Uso and the rest of the children in Victory Gundam, and she regularly puts herself in danger to protect others. Her hairstyle is cute, I have a huge crush on her, and I just think she's really cool. Hopefully after the events of Victory Gundam, Marbet gets to live in a little cottage with her child and they get to live peacefully like they deserve.

THANK YOU!

Whoah! We made it to the end of a second edition! Thank you again for reading this little zine. I hope you enjoyed it! If you have anything to say about it, then you're more than welcome to contact me at @RainMirage_Art on twitter, or send me an email at rainmirageart@gmail.com.

I realised in the first Gundam Girls zine that I focused quite a bit on Universal Century girls, and this is mostly because I've watched all UC shows and not all non-UC stuff. I've tried to remedy this in this second edition, although it is quite likely that in the event that any more editions are made, SEED, AGE and game or manga-only characters will most likely continue to be absent. Even so, I'll try my best to provide space to all the lovely ladies of Gundam, and if they aren't here physically, they're here spiritually. Or something.

Bye!
